SAN DIEGO SIGHTS

THE LAPPINS WRITE OF BIG AIR-PLANE TOURNAMENT AND OTHER SIGHTS

San Diego, Cal., 242 21st St., Nov. 27, 1918.

To Our Many Glendale Friends: Through the kindness of the Glendale News I hope to reach you.

We left last Sunday morning, and in spite of the terrific wind, we had a very nice trip, arriving here at 4 p. m.

As Mr. Lappin is never happy while idle, he began to line up his work early Monday morning. I looked up a home and found a pleasant little cottage upon the hill where we have a wonderful view of the city and bay and see the splendid sunsets over Point Loma. Comfortable living quarters are not plentiful, nor the rent as reasonable as in Glendale.

Today we witnessed the greatest airplane display ever held in America. Ten or a dozen machines in the air at once is a spectacle, but can you imagine two hundred, buzzing, circling, turning flipflops and forming letters scarcely three hundred feet above your head?

They began to leave the fields at 10 a. m. and were on display for two hours. They were led by Maj. Albert Smith in an English Spade, doing 130 miles an hour. He was followed by five detached acrobats, who flew down to 200 feet and thrilled one with their wonderful performances.

The first to leave were those doing only 75 miles, and they were started every few minutes until those doing up to 150 miles were the last ones to leave.

The sun was not shining and we could see them clearly. At times they bore in from the bay like a great flock of geese, the large ones forming the letter V, while the smaller ones filled in the center. It is said that they performed feats that had only been performed on the battlefields.

With the soldiers and sailors as thick as autos on the streets, and with airplanes as thick as flies in the sky, and this only a handful to those in Europe, is it any wonder that the kaiser took to the tall timber? It certainly looked as if there was such a thing as war.

The influenza has taken an increase in the past week and schools are still closed.

We feel at home in San Diego, and bad luck to Mr. Lappin's purse. The change of climate has worked wonders in our appetites. Trust Mr. Hoover will not object to our adding a few extra pounds.

With best wishes to past patrons and friends and trusting you will look us up when you are in the city, we remain, very truly,

THE LAPPINS.

TWENTIETH CENTURY HONOR

All war savings and thrift stamp pledges are due and payable before January 1. The people of Glendale and Casa Verdugo pledged $90,000 and have paid about $63,000, leaving almost $30,000 in pledges to be redeemed during the remaining days of December. All who have not paid their pledges in full are urged to do so at once. This is a matter of honor. It is just simple honesty with our government and ourselves.

Glendale, through its splendid citizenship, has supported all patriotic measures loyally and generously. The payment of these pledges is left with you in full confidence that the sense of honor is no less binding today than it was when "a man's word was as good as his bond."

Make Christmas presents of thrift stamps and war savings stamps. You can't make a better present. Honor your pledge.

Solicitors will call upon you during the days of this week to remind you of your pledge, to secure a statement of the amount you pledged, the amount you have paid and the amount still due, and to present you, if paid in full, an honor pin showing that you are upon the war savings honor roll.

Check up your pledge and honor it.
HARRY L. HOWE,
War Savings Chairman.

ELKS' DRILL TEAM CHOOSES MANAGER

The drill team of the Glendale Elks' Lodge held a meeting Friday evening at the club house, the first in several months. The special business of the evening was the selection of a manager, for which Joe Fortunato was named and met with no opposition. The team anticipates a very successful year and is making arrangements to furnish its drill room so that the lady friends of the members can be entertained at the drills which take place on Friday nights. The team is also considering a suggestion to give a ball at the club house in the near future.

RED CROSS ORGANIZES

LOCAL CHAPTER ELECTS OFFICERS AND MAKES COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS

Directors of the reorganized Red Cross chapter met Saturday afternoon at headquarters on Brand Boulevard and transacted some important business. Officers were chosen as follows:

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman.
J. H. Braly, honorary chairman.
Ezra F. Parker, vice chairman.
Mrs. H. F. Duffield, secretary.
C. D. Lusby, treasurer.

A letter was read from F. H. Vesper, in which he asked to be released from the treasuryship on account of the many other demands upon his time, and C. D. Lusby was then added to the directorate and elected treasurer, as stated above.

The completed directorate as it now stands is: Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Stanley Frenz, Mrs. E. V. Bacon, Ezra F. Parker, Peter L. Ferry, Mrs. H. S. Duffield, Mrs. Hartley Shaw, Harry L. Howe, Mrs. Dan Campbell, Richardson D. White, Mrs. A. A. Barton, A. T. Cowan, Mrs. W. W. Ramsay, F. H. Vesper, J. H. Braly, Mesdames Arthur Brown, Helen Sadler, Jack Boettner, Helen I. Campbell, A. S. Chase, C. L. Bullard, Miss Coral Griffith and C. D. Lusby.

Mrs. A. A. Barton, Mrs. Dan Campbell and Mrs. Hartley Shaw were named as the three members who, with the officers, should constitute the executive committee of eight.

Mrs. Bartlett was placed in nomination by J. H. Braly, the former chairman, who made a most appreciative speech, in which he declared the Red Cross was originally and naturally a woman's organization and not until it was taken under the control of the government were men appointed to official positions. The nomination of Mr. Braly as honorary chairman was made by Mrs. Duffield.

The necessity for a truck to be used in the collection of salvage was discussed and the fact brought out that a large part of the income of the chapter is derived from the sale of salvage, the collection and disposition of which could be greatly promoted by the ownership of a truck which would be available at all times. It was argued that should need for such a vehicle cease it could undoubtedly be sold for a sum sufficient to reimburse the chapter. The talk finally crystallized in a motion that a sufficient sum of money be set aside to be used by the salvage committee to purchase a first class Ford truck, the salvage committee of purchase to consist of the executive committee acting in co-operation with the committee originally appointed, consisting of Messrs. Rowley, R. D. White and A. T. Cowan.

FUNERAL OF JACOB WESLEY DALRYMPLE

Funeral services, conducted by Dr. Julius Soper, will be held this afternoon over the body of Jacob Wesley Dalrymple, who died suddenly about 6:30 a. m. Saturday, November 30, 1918, at his home at 1001 Central Avenue. He appeared to be in usual health Friday night, but a heart seizure in the early morning proved fatal. His family consisted of his widow and a niece, Miss Mary Dalrymple, who has resided with the Dalrymples for a number of years, and he has cousins in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Spencer of this city, who have known him for more than twenty-five years, testify to his fine character as a patriot and citizen. For many years the two families were residents of Montrose, Colorado, where a portion of the Dalrymple estate now is. At the outbreak of the Civil war he was attending college in Ohio, but soon left school to enlist and served in the ranks for more than three years. After coming to Glendale about five years ago, he united with the N. P. Banks Post and was a valued member. He was also a Mason and a Knight Templar.

The funeral, which will be private with attendance limited to relatives and old friends from Colorado who are now residing in California, will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park at 2 o'clock, and will be in charge of the Jewel City Undertaking Company.

PRESIDENT OUTLINES PEACE PROBLEMS

SAYS CHIEF NEED OF U. S. IS DEVELOPMENT OF RAILWAYS, WATERWAYS, HIGHWAYS, COUNTRY ROADS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Dec. 2.—President Wilson, addressing Congress at 1 o'clock this afternoon, declared that the present governmental agencies are sufficient to handle the problems of readjustment.

"The chief need of the country at present," he said, "is the development of its railways, waterways, highways and country roads."

Regarding the railways, now under federal control, he went on record as opposed to returning to the old system of private control which "brought restraint without development," and said "some new element of policy is an absolute necessity." What the new policy is to be he left with Congress, declaring: "I frankly turn to you for counsel," at which the members on the Republican side laughed.

The President revealed that the main points of his program for readjustment are:

Woman suffrage.
Immediate resumption of development of public works to provide returning soldiers with employment.

Ratification of the Colombia treaty in order to improve Pan-American relations.

Immediate determination of the amount of taxes to be levied for the next two years, lifting as much of the burden from business as government demands make possible.

Priority distribution of American raw materials to war-stricken nations.

Completion of the navy building program.

Immediate congressional study of the railway question to facilitate a quick settlement.

Reclamation of arid, swamp and deforested lands.

Peace based on international justice and not mere domestic safety.

The President said he expected the final peace treaty will be signed in the spring, and that in the meantime American business men, with "quick initiative," already are going ahead with readjustment.

Referring to his trip to Europe, the President asked the "united support" of Congress in his work of making peace, and declared it was his duty to go to Europe because "the gallant men of our forces have fought for ideals which they knew to be the ideals of their country. I owe it to them to see that no false, mistaken interpretation is put upon them. It is now my plain duty to play my full part in making good what they offered their heart's blood to attain. I can think of no service which would transcend this."

The Democratic members of the House and Senate, and large groups in the gallery, arose and cheered as the President made this declaration.

FIRST SOLDIERS REACH NEW YORK

CITY MARKS THE EVENT WITH A REGULAR NEW YEAR'S CELEBRATION OF GREETING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

New York, Dec. 2.—The Mauretania, carrying the first load of returning soldiers from the war zone, left quarantine this morning and landed here 4,000 troops. As she steamed up the bay she was greeted with a wireless dispatch brought by a tug: "When do we eat? Send back answer?"

The men were in high spirits and were taken immediately to an army camp at Long Island City, and New York started a regular New Year's Eve celebration to mark the event.

EDMUND ROSTAND, FRENCH DRAMATIST, DIES

AUTHOR OF THE MOST FAMOUS PLAYS OF THE CENTURY EXPIRES AT PARIS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Dec. 2.—Edmund Rostand, the famous French dramatist, died here today. He was the author of Cyrano de Bergerac, played by Coquelin and Richard Mansfield; L'Aiglon, in which Maud Adams and other actors even more celebrated were starred, and other plays which gave him first rank among playwrights.

GOVERNMENT REQUIREMENTS EXCEED EIGHT BILLIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Dec. 2.—Secretary McAdoo today notified the House of Representatives that government expenditures for the next fiscal year will be $8,089,000,000.

BRITISH AND AMERICAN ADVANCE RESUMED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

With the American Army in Prussia, Dec. 2.—The American advance in Prussia was resumed today. The British also occupied additional German territory.

NO CONFIDENCE IN GERMANY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Dec. 2.—It is the general belief here that Germany is planning to spring a surprise on the Allies. Many believe the kaiser's recent abdication proclamation is merely a big bluff. Berlin authorities admit there is no real master of the situation, leaving a big opening for a dramatic move.

A MODERN ATHENS

REV. CHAS. SCOTT LIKENS LOS ANGELES TO GREEK CITY VISITED BY PAUL

In an address on the "Realities of Religion," Rev. Charles Scott sought to impress upon worshippers at his Sunday evening service the fundamental object of life as he views it, the union of the natural man and the spiritual man referred to by the Apostle Paul.

At some length he argued they were not to be differentiated and that in a normal order of things it is as natural for man to be spiritually-minded as it is for him to be carnally-minded; that it is the natural thing for organized life to achieve the highest development of which it is capable, and that when the chrysalis into which the crawling worm has transformed itself fails to break the enveloping shell and spread its wings in air and sunlight as a butterfly, a tragedy in nature takes place. So, he reasoned, is the life of man blasted when it fails of the spiritual rebirth in Christ.

He dwelt on the countless religions of the world which must have been false in spite of the sincere belief of devotees, and then challenged his hearers with the question: "Is your religion true? Is it real?"

To be real, a religion, he declared, must be an essential part of life and it must be universal in its appeal. It must be such that it can be preached upon the highway and find an echo in the heart of every passer-by. He described Paul's visit to Athens, a city which made a cult of all religions and where—lest some deity had been forgotten who would be offended at the neglect, an altar had been erected "to the unknown god."

Los Angeles, the city of many and strange religions, was likened to Athens, and if they could have been put in competition he expressed confidence that the Angel City would have scored on the number and variety of its altars.

He reviewed the circumstances and manner of Paul's announcement to the Athenians of the reality of "the unknown God," saying: "Whom ignorantly ye worship, Him declare I unto you; for in Him we live and move and have our being."

The fact of creation, he declared, made man dependent on his Creator for life and movement, and should lead him to get into harmony with the great primal forces of the universe, through which alone he could achieve his full ultimate development from worm to butterfly—from the material to the spiritual. The thought was pressed home in the final division of his theme: "In Him we have our being." The new birth into spirituality, he pointed out, made of man the vassal or instrument of Christ who thus became incarnate and the ministering agent to the world through the surrender of man to the divine influx. He closed with an urgent appeal to make such a surrender.

FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fields of West Cerritos Avenue were host and hostess at a family reunion on Thanksgiving Day, at which eighteen guests, ranging from grandparents to little children, were entertained. Those present were: Mrs. Mary Rich, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rich, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rich and son, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Miller and son, Howard; Mr. and Mrs. Landon Haynes and children, Audrey and Landon, Jr.; Miss Mary Rich, Miss Irene Rich, Mrs. Jamie Little and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Seal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rich, who came from Honolulu several months ago, are returning December 3 to make their home there.

TO RETURN TO CIVIL LIFE

William ("Billie") Anderson, who is in Company H, First Infantry, and who was stationed at Schofield Barracks, Honolulu, for several months, is at Camp Lewis now, and expects to be mustered out of service in a few days. Billie writes he put in an application for a job as conductor on the electric lines in Tacoma, Wash., and has been accepted. During the time he was at Camp Lewis he was made corporal.

DEATH OF ALTON SPRAGUE

Another soldier whom Glendale claimed has responded to the great roll call. Last Saturday morning, November 30, 1918, Alton Sprague died at the Riverside camp, of pneumonia which had succeeded influenza. He leaves a widow who has been employed by the Sunset Telephone Company in this city, also a father and brothers. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at Hollywood.

THANKFUL TO RETURN

MR. AND MRS. OLIVER CLARK REACH GLENDALE AFTER MONTH IN OHIO

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Clark arrived home just before Thanksgiving, after a month's sojourn in the east. Mrs. Clark says no one ever saw two people so glad to get back to California as they were. "Never before did I realize," she declared, "how dirty it is back there. Chicago and Kansas City were just black. We had snow all the way to California and it seemed good to see the desert and the clear California sky, although we could see by the gray haze over the mountains when we ran into San Bernardino that you had a dust storm. But in spite of that it looked clear to us."

Business called Mr. Clark to Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Clark was glad to accompany him, as that is her old home, and they found it very pleasant visiting friends and relatives. Both were sick of influenza while in Columbus. Mrs. Clark reports that the train was crowded with eastern tourists coming to California to recuperate from "flu." Traveling is not so comfortable as of yore, she says, because not as many Pullmans are carried. Under government control the traveling public is required to fill the cars before more are added to the train, and that means that all the upper berths must be filled. A good many women passengers were forced to take them on the way west. The Clarks spent an extra day in Chicago to secure lower berths. On the way east they stopped at Pueblo, Colorado, and a few other points, but when they were headed for home they came through as quickly as possible.

On Thanksgiving Day Mr. and Mrs. Clark were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Henry of Patterson Avenue.

VANCOUVER CELEBRATES

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 2.—Vancouver today voted the Thanksgiving celebration held yesterday a success.

The celebration was in thanksgiving for victory and was held in compliance with the wishes of the Dominion government. A monster mass meeting was held in the Horse Show Building, which was packed to capacity. The ceremonies started with the playing and singing of all Allied national anthems. Mayor Gale presided, and he council, supreme and county courts, in robes of office, and other dignitaries, participated.

JUST BEFORE THE END

SERGT. ANDERSON WRITES NOV. 5 OF HIS APPROACH TO THE FRONT LINE

The following letter from Sergeant H. L. Anderson carries with it the breezy atmosphere of camp life and courage of the soldier. It will be of interest to his many friends here:

With A. E. F., Nov. 5, 1918.

Dear Folks: Have not heard from you in some time, but guess that is due to the fact that I have moved again; that is, the battalion. We are now up where we can hear and see the flashes from the big boys, and will be in action soon, as we have got some trucks now and are going to start hauling ammunition soon, so you see that means quite a few chances to get up on the front lines.

"How is the weather in old California now? Pretty fine, I expect. You can believe me we are having some pretty cold weather here now, and it rains about five days out of the week, which makes it very disagreeable for the truck drivers. But, then, why worry? The war will be over soon and then back to the good old U. S. A. and a wonderful time, for I sure am going to celebrate some when I return home, and no fooling."

"Well, there is nothing new to tell, only that Sunday, the 27th, we started on a little hike of about 60 miles in heavy marching order, which means about 70 pounds, including gas mask, steel helmet and rifle. The first day we made 26 miles and you can believe me I was some tired, but am feeling fine now, as I have done nothing much since but lie around until last night, when I made a trip up to the front with a load of shells. Didn't get clear up where we could see the big guns, only to an ammunition dump about 20 kilometers from them. A kilometer is five-eighths of a mile in American measure, so you see we're pretty close at that, but hope to see the fun soon."

Well, folks, give my regards to all and lots of love to you all from your soldier boy."

HOOVER'S MESSAGE

Again in full confidence I call upon the American people to set aside Sunday, December first, and the week following for the consideration of America's opportunity for renewed service and sacrifice.

Last summer when the military situation was acute we assured the inter-allied food conference in London that whatever the war-food program of the Allies required we were prepared to meet; that the conference need not consider whether or not we had the supplies we were prepared to find them; we pledged ourselves by the voluntary economy of our people to have the reserves in food to supply all necessities. The ending of the war does not release us from the pledge. The same populations must be fed and until another season has passed they cannot feed themselves.

The change in the foreign situation necessarily alters the details of our food program because the freeing of the seas from submarine menace renders accessible the wheat supplies of India, Australia and the Argentine. The total food demand upon the United States is not diminished, however. On the contrary it is increased. In addition to the supplying of those to whom we are already pledged we now have the splendid opportunity and obligation of meeting the needs of those millions of people in the hitherto occupied territories who are facing actual starvation. The people of Belgium, Northern France, Serbia, Roumania, Montenegro, Poland, Russia and Armenia rely upon America for immediate aid. We must also participate in the preservation of the newly liberated nations of Austria; nor can we ignore the effect on the future world developments of a famine condition among these other people whom we have recently released from our enemies. All these considerations mean that upwards of two hundred million people in addition to those we are already pledged to serve are now looking to us in their misery and famine. Our appeal today is therefore larger than the former appeal to the "war conscience" of our people. The new appeal is to the "world conscience" which must be the guiding inspiration of our future program.

The President of the United States has asked me to take charge for this Government of this work; to perfect and enlarge the arrangements for food stuffs to the populations of Belgium and France now being released and to organize and to determine the need of provision to the liberated peoples of Southern Europe to prevent such debacle as has taken place in Russia.

The determining factor for the success of such an enlarged appeal will be the vivid consciousness in every individual in each community of obligation and opportunity. It is that common recognition of obligation that we now wish to create. Such an intelligent "world conscience" in the American people must be the main dependence of the stricken countries of the world until normal conditions are once more restored.

America by her participation in the war has accomplished her objectives of self-defense and of vindicating the efficiency of a government in which the people and the people only are sovereign. She has established the foundations of government by the people throughout the enemy countries and is thus the real bulwark of world peace. We have yet to build on these foundations. No government nor nation can stand if its people are starving. We must do our part if the world be not consumed in a flame of anarchy.

The American people in this most critical period of their history have the opportunity to demonstrate not only their ability to assist in establishing peace on earth but also their consecration by self-denial to the cause of suffering humanity.

HERBERT HOOVER.

PROTECTION OF LIBERTY BOND BUYERS

Protection of Liberty Bond buyers against "Pirates of Patriotism" is proposed by the State Council of Defense.

At a meeting of the Advisory War Cabinet, State Librarian Milton J. Ferguson stated:

"Only thru active publicity by the Council can many patriotic, but inexperienced and needy people be saved from loss by misrepresentation or fraud, and embittered against the government.

"Great wealth in Liberty Bonds," said Mr. Ferguson, "has been placed in the hands of people not accustomed to dealing in securities. The interest rate is low and this fact is played upon by the get-rich-quick schemers.

"A systematic effort is now being made by promoters of shady character to secure possession of the bonds. These 'pirates of patriotism' see a chance to reap a rich harvest which only the right sort of publicity on the part of such a body as the State Council of Defense will nip in the bud.

"I am aware that the Federal Government has from time to time sent out warnings about letting bonds get out of owner's possession, but this is not sufficient.

"The plan that is being worked out is to put up the Liberty Bonds for part payments in stocks, to have future payments made on the installment plan. This can be carried over a considerable period and it will be very easy to separate men from their Liberty Bonds without question being made in a public way. Some emphatic statement should be made on the advisability of people keeping their bonds."

Mr. Wm. Sproule remarking that a permanent relation should be established between the man and his bond, condemned brokers who are chasing after distressed and unsuspecting bond buyers, getting hold of the securities or contracts therefor in exchange for stock in wild-cat schemes. And in some cases employers are profiting through forfeiture by reason of the inability of discharged men to complete payments on bonds, which employers had agreed to hold for installment payments, after the initial payment. He expressed an opinion that bonds should not have been placed in the hands of men not likely to be able to complete payments and without prospect of keeping the securities, unless provision for refunds were made in case of discharge from war and munition plants. The holders should query the men who placed the bonds and not the banks, for methods of securing return of money.

"The result of this situation will be," said Mr. Sproule, "that many such buyers, limited in financial knowledge, will feel that the country has buccinated them out of money."

It is believed that because of the stress placed upon the patriotic duty to subscribe for bonds, many persons considered that they were making a gift of money to the cause, and that the securities have no assured value. And such mistaken subscribers need to be made to feel that a bond is better than a savings bank deposit pass book, and should be kept as tenaciously.

The Cabinet has recommended that the Executive Committee of the Council appoint a special committee to plan a public movement to bring about a remedy for the situation.

Silence is the most appropriate way of conveying our opinion on the question of the Governor's action in reference to the Mooney case. To think aloud on a subject of so much importance might start something.

LESS WOOL IN SEPTEMBER

Manufacturers used approximately five and one-half million pounds less wool in September than in August, 1918, September figures being about 58,300,000 pounds, grease equivalent, compared to 63,900,000 in August. Stocks of wool consumed in September in pounds, by classes, as given by the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture, were: Grease, 35,896,421; scoured, 10,143,136, and pulled, 1,608,856. The report shows Massachusetts consumed most wool in September, followed in order by Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Rhode Island, New York, Ohio, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Maine.

STATE NEWS

Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 2.—The San Francisco Shipbuilding Company, the same which constructed the original modern concrete ship, the "Faith," has been issued a permit by the state corporations department to sell 3,557 shares of its capital stock, the proceeds to be used in the building of concrete ships. The issue is subject to the approval of the federal capital issues committee.

Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 2.—Will it be necessary to keep the schools open later than usual next summer? The great loss of study hours by pupils during the influenza epidemic may make it necessary to prolong the school year in order to obtain the regular apportionment of state school funds. State Superintendent of Schools-elect Will C. Wood has received this query and explanation in varying forms from all parts of California. The schools must be in session at least eight months of the school year to share as usual in the funds, he answers. In regard to the suggestion of Superintendent W. E. Faught of Modesto, advocating Saturday sessions for the pupils, Wood declares that it would be illegal to have such sessions. Wood is in favor of curtailing the Christmas holidays to two or three days. If schools are maintained for less than eight months, any surplus money remaining in the school fund must be turned back to the treasurer for reappropriation. If eight months or more have been maintained, these surplus funds may be carried over until the next year.

Pomona, Cal., Dec. 2.—Final lifting of the ban on large construction projects and assurance of proper water supply are now being awaited before work is to be started on the building of the two million dollar Pacific colony project on the former "Stearns Ranch" five miles from Pomona. It was declared here today.

The colony, which has state support to the extent of a quarter of a million dollars already appropriated by the legislature, is designed to become the nation's largest educational home for the feeble-minded. Definite selection of the site near Pomona was made last week at a meeting of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce with Mrs. J. Powers of Los Angeles, chairman of the trustees of the Pacific Colony; Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, assistant superintendent of schools of Los Angeles; Dr. H. A. Sutherland, psychologist of the Los Angeles school department; and Dr. A. Williams, research department, Whittier State School. Mere custody of inmates of this school will be an entirely secondary matter in its work, those interested declare. Its chief work will be educational. The tract of over 1,400 acres will be divided so that those suffering from like forms of mental ailments can be kept together, and each trained to do something of a productive nature, according to his ability.

Imperial, Cal., Dec. 2.—Imperial will join the ranks of bone dry cities December 21. A bone dry ordinance effective on that date was unanimously adopted by the town council.

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 2.—Uncle Sam is restoring to usefulness a half million pairs of dilapidated shoes monthly, according to Jos. Caunt of Pasadena, formerly a shoe manufacturer and now a "dollar-a-year man" and assistant chief of the war department's bureau of conservation and reclamation. Between ten and thirteen thousand pairs of nearly hopeless shoes are rendered habitable daily at the bureau's cobbling shop at Hoboken, N. J., Caunt said. Caunt is here on a visit home.

Pinos recently is agreed by fishermen to have been an "allied" whale and to have died at the hands or fins or jaws of "thrashers," a family of Hun whales. The "thrashers" hunt in gangs and seem to concentrate their hostilities on sperm whales. The gangs chase their victims, each taking their turn at "thrashing" and wounding the whale. They finally get the whale in such a condition that his (or her) tongue protrudes, whereat the killers attack that organ and finish the whale, sending him speedily to his happy swimming grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Botts of 1020 Stocker Street are moving to Los Angeles and will reside at 713 South Vermont street.

Master Burton Kuntzner is confined to his bed with a severe cold, but hopes soon to be able to resume school.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Furst of 500 North Isabel street spent the week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lyons of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Newton and family were Thanksgiving guests in the home of Mrs. Minette Sherman and daughters of Vine Street.

Mrs. Frank Parsons entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Salisbury, Miss Maude Salisbury and Mrs. Harold Salisbury.

Miss Sibyl Roake of West Garfield Avenue was the guest on Sunday of Miss Gertrude McCarthy of Los Angeles, who gave a belated Thanksgiving dinner for a number of old school friends.

The chairman of the community singing organization announces that meetings will be resumed Thursday evening at the Union High School auditorium at 7:45 o'clock, with Professor Kirchhoff present as leader.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Root of Verdugo Road have been entertaining their nephew and niece, Benjamin and Faith Woodruff of Los Angeles, who arrived the day before Thanksgiving and left for their city home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Garben of 112 Arden street, and their two sons, Herbert and Carl, spent Thanksgiving with relatives at East San Gabriel. Mr. and Mrs. Garben returned the same day, but the two boys remained for the week-end.

Dr. I. F. Lawshe of Indiana arrived in Glendale Sunday and will spend the winter here with his brother, A. L. Lawshe. Mrs. Lawshe's mother, Mrs. Mary C. Wampler, accompanied the Lawshes on their homeward journey and will also be their guest this winter.

Robert Reed, who was badly lacerated in an auto accident Friday morning and taken to the Glendale Sanitarium, is now at home. He still goes to the sanitarium to have his face dressed by the attending physician, but is doing nicely, with the probability that he will not be disfigured by his injuries.

W. E. Roake of the Roake Garage, Brand Boulevard, has just completed and is about to deliver six reel carts made under a government contract for the balloon school at Arcadia for use in connection with the balloons. Mr. Roake had quite a severe attack of influenza the first week in November, but has been well enough to resume his work this week.

HARRY DUFFIELD IN "PALS FIRST"

Harry Duffield got into harness this morning. An all-day rehearsal was planned for today at the Morocco Theatre in Los Angeles, which will reopen tonight with the comedy drama, "Pals First," which has a southern setting and has all the elements of a popular play. George Meredith, a new juvenile lead imported from New York, will make his first appearance, and Mr. Duffield will enact the role of a detective. As New Orleans is his natal city, the chance to relapse into his natural southern speech will be welcome to him and enjoyed by the audience. Mrs. Duffield will attend, as she always does on first nights.

THE "CHURCH AROUND THE CORNER"

The Glendale fire company had quite a little run Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, trying to locate a fire announced to them by an excited citizen who rushed into fire house number one, telling them to come at once to a fire "two doors from the church around the corner," and then rushed away before further particulars could be had. As the First Methodist Church appeared to be the nearest "corner" on which a church edifice stands, they made for that, but no fire was to be found, so they circled around by way of Jackson street to see if there were any signs of a conflagration at the Adventist Church, and finally got to 129 South Louise, the home of Mrs. Murray, where there had been a blaze caused by crossed electric wires, which was practically extinguished when they arrived. Glendale is a city of churches and it evidently is not a sufficient designation to mention "the church around the corner."

NO D. A. R. MEETING

"THE TIME OF THE END"

ELDER H. G. LUCAS INTERPRETS SIGNS OF TIMES AS PROPHECIED IN THE BIBLE

That the world has, since 1798, been living in what the Bible calls "the time of the end," that multiplied signs show the coming of Christ to be imminent, and that one of these omens is the rapidity with which the gospel is going to all the world, were statements made last Saturday morning by Elder H. G. Lucas, at the regular service of the Seventh-Day Adventists. The meeting was held in the Tropic Presbyterian Church, the Adventists of upper Glendale uniting with those of the Tropic district in their service. Because of this union service, no meeting was held Saturday morning at the Glendale Church on Isabel Street and Wilson Avenue. However, the regular services will be resumed there next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, the Sabbath school beginning at 9:30.

Elder Lucas read to his audience Christ's words in Matthew 24:14—"This gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come." He then told of the rapid strides being made in all foreign lands in mission operations. In mentioning the work the Seventh-Day Adventists are doing, he said that in less than 40 years this denomination has gained between 40,000 and 50,000 adherents in foreign lands; that they are now laboring in about 50 countries, and are publishing literature in 94 languages and dialects. They are operating 40 denominational publishing houses. Last year the membership increased 12,369.

The speaker also mentioned the prediction of Matthew 24:29, 30, that the sun and moon would be darkened and the stars fall as a fig tree casts unripe fruits when shaken by a mighty wind. History, he says, records the supernatural dark day of May 19, 1780, when the sun turned black about 10 o'clock in the morning, and so continued throughout the day, the moon appearing like a great red ball the following night. Mr. Lucas said the great star-shower of November 13, 1833, exactly fulfilled the words of Christ's prophecy, and that the words of the next verse in the chapter cannot fail of fulfillment, that soon all "shall see the Son of Man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory."

"God wants all men to be saved," said the speaker. "In His plan, all are elected to be saved. 'Whosoever will may come.' He desires all to come to a knowledge of the truth."

for there is one God, and one Mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus, who gave Himself a ransom for all." Yet we can not expect universal salvation, for all are not willing to accept God's plan. The gospel will be preached in all the world, the Scripture says, "for a witness." Salvation will be extended to every human being. It is for each to choose whether or not he or she will accept it."

FRENCH FOLK TEND OUR BOYS' GRAVES

(By Webb Miller, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, Nov. 7. (By Mail.)—On the wooded slope of a hill that rises in a bend of the Seine just on the edge of Paris there is a little cemetery that is doing much to weld another link in the chain of friendship binding France and America.

Among the 700 graves of soldiers in this cemetery are many graves of American boys who have succumbed to their wounds in the hospitals in the suburbs of the city.

Almost every one of the American graves has been "adopted" by some French family, which takes care of the grave as though one of their own dead lay there. Many families have adopted from three to five of the little mounds, and one prominent French professional man of Paris has "adopted" fifteen and insists upon tending them with his own hands. The duties of the "foster-parents" include, besides the care of the grave, an effort to get in touch with the relatives of the dead hero in America to tell them about the resting place of their fallen soldier.

Everyone of the adopted graves is tended scrupulously. Fresh flowers are placed frequently and the American flag at the head of the grave is renewed when it is faded. On Sundays it is not unusual to see a dozen French women in deep mourning, accompanied by a troop of sober-faced children, reverently caring for the grave of an American who has fallen on the soil of France.

When a military funeral draws up to the gate of the cemetery and tenderly deposits another flag-draped coffin, the children gravely salute and follow the little procession to the new grave, and stand quietly while the chaplain reads the simple ceremony and the bugler sounds the final requiem.

ICES AGAIN!

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 2.—Oh, girls, isn't it great?

As announced by the California food administration, restrictions on the manufacture of ices and sherbets were removed yesterday. The sugar allotment per person per month has also been increased from three to four pounds, and all manufacturers, bakers, restaurants and other commercial users are permitted additional allotments.

With the raising a little of the sugar lid, a nation-wide intensive food saving campaign was launched to extend throughout the week. The co-operation of churches of all denominations, schools and fraternal and other organizations has been sought to aid in the "peace" food saving program.

WILL FIND JOBS WAITING

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 2.—Soldiers returning from war partially disabled will find jobs waiting for them in Los Angeles under plans being placed in effect today by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the federal government.

A survey of the city has been started under which all jobs which can be filled by maimed soldiers will be listed and classified. The classification will be made according to what positions require—whether one-armed men, blind men, deaf men, or men injured in other ways, can fill them. As soldiers return they will be given the positions they can fill, and if they are not qualified by training, arrangements for giving the necessary training will be made.

HAD THE GOODS ON HIM

"What I don't understand is this," said Mr. Jagsby, as he reached home in the wee sma' hours. "I told Sam at the poker club to tell you I was not there and he said, 'Boss, they ain't no use tryin' to fool de Missus, 'cause she done got de goods on you.'"

"Oh, that's easily explained," answered Mrs. Jagsby; "when he started to say you were not there, I told him you were sitting right in front of the telephone and I could see you."

EXPERT ON SAVING

Millions of persons, according to Freeman Putney, Jr., in the Financial World, decide to save, do it haphazard for a time, then they drop back into careless money habits. They fail because they follow the wrong system.

The wrong way, Mr. Putney points out, is to pay current expenses first and then save what remains. The right way is to make up your mind how much you can save weekly, then lay that amount aside first.

The Philippine Islands are steadily gaining in the production of sugar. From a crop of 345,077 short tons of raw sugar in 1913, and of 408,339 tons in 1914, the crop of 1917 advanced to 425,266 tons.

STATE COUNCIL OF DEFENSE IS HARD AT WORK

Called by Director Chas. C. Moore of the state council of defense, an informal conference was held at the offices in the Ferry Building, San Francisco, at which there were present: General John F. Morrison of the western division, Admiral Joseph E. Jayne, General J. J. Borree; A. B. C. Dohrmann, head of the division of the Red Cross; P. H. McCarthy, Mrs. Robert J. Burdette and Mrs. Moody of the women's committee of the State council, and state representatives of the Y. M. C. A., National Catholic War Council, Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service and Salvation Army.

The object of the conference was to ascertain what steps might be taken for providing for returning fighting men in the interim of their honorable discharge from the army and navy and their being replaced in industry. There was general agreement that there is need for immediate attention to this subject.

It was discovered that while several organizations were giving some attention to this matter, no one particular organization is made definitely responsible. The Red Cross reported that their canteen service has been organized to look after men while traveling, but that this duty stops upon their arrival at home. The War Camp Community Council reported that assistance is being given to men with regard to places where to sleep and eat, etc.

Each organization associated in the united war workers' campaign declared itself ready and eager to cooperate in any arrangement that shall make the returning soldier and sailor feel that his services have been appreciated.

There was a consensus of opinion that the state council of defense is the proper center for this new activity, and it was agreed that each organization shall, if necessary, detail a man for service at the state council offices for consultation and working out of a plan of registration of applicants, etc.

It was brought out in the conference that, compared with the amount of work and expense entailed, the information to be obtained from the draft board records, as to the names and addresses and other information, would not be of so much value as at first anticipated, inasmuch as the communities will be dealing with re-created men, who because of their experience in the fighting forces, will be better trained, will have a keener outlook upon life, and, undoubtedly, in many cases will desire better work than they had before the war. Men who were only half-trained, and men who had worked previously only in unskilled labor, have now acquired knowledge of skilled trades. Their pre-war status, therefore, may be of little guidance as to what they can do in the future.

As a simplification of method, it has been decided that a man's honorable discharge shall be the pivot of all arrangements in regard to his rehabilitation.

Director Moore said that the state council feels that such honorable discharge should be deemed sufficient certificate of a man's worthiness, and a presentation of this discharge should be considered a righteous claim upon the state. The state inducted the man into military service; the state should induct him into civil life again.

TROUBLE FOR JONES WHEN JONES DESERTS

(By United Press.)

Paris, Nov. 6. (By Mail.)—"The government is holding up my allotment because my service record is not clear. They say I'm charged with desertion. I'm in desperate need."

There were tears in the eyes of Sergeant Jones as he handed an open letter to his commanding officer.

"Read that, will you?" he asked, and the officer shook his head sympathetically.

"Pretty bad, Jones. Evidently another case of too many Joneses in the world. Of course we can straighten it out for you as soon as we can get into communication with Washington."

"But what is my wife going to do in the meantime?" asked Jones. "You see what she says."

"Why not tell your troubles to the Red Cross?" asked the officer. "They have a home service office in Paris for cases like that."

The sergeant took his advice, and two letters and three cables straightened out the matter, relieved the wife's need and the soldier's distress.

American Red Cross home service handled 3,660 similar cases from June to September.

CALIFORNIA'S SACRIFICE IN WAR

California's service flag now carries 1,033 gold stars, according to a report just made by Edward A. Dickson, chairman of the war history committee of the state council of defense. Of this number 421 were killed in action, 139 died from wounds received in battle and the remainder lost their lives from airplane accidents and other causes.

Los Angeles County has made by far the largest contribution to the list of California casualties, the number of men from that county who have made the supreme sacrifice being 315. San Francisco is next with 134; Alameda county third with 102.

Following is the casualty list according to counties:

COUNTIES	Killed in Action	Died of Wounds	Died of Disease	Accident	Died of Airplane	Other Causes	Total

THE NEW SPIRIT OF THE GOVERNMENT

Holiday business is no longer a boo. The busier the better is now the spirit of the government.

The state council of defense announces that all of the requests made heretofore to restrict Christmas buying are called off, from Washington.

The restrictions had for their object the conservation of labor in the stores and in delivery systems, and the avoidance of congestion on transportation lines busy with hauling troops, material and supplies necessary in the war. But the armistice has brought a change.

The council of national defense has telegraphed the state council as follows:

"As one of the steps essential to the rapid establishment of normal after-the-war conditions, the council of national defense should, and hereby does, lift its ban in connection with holiday buying, in the desire to give a natural impetus to the re-employment of those normally engaged in the production of holiday material and in the holiday trade. The council is further impelled to this decision by reason of the necessity now confronting us to get our military forces and munition factory workers back to the ordinary pursuits of life with the least possible shock in making the change."

Save for Opportunity

The war is over, the boys will soon be marching home. The new era of economy and thrift is on. Thrift, plus the Pep they will bring to us, will open up greater opportunities than ever before.

Why not get ready to greet them when they come?
